Water Divining

This method of finding water (or minerals) is very much disputed and no scientific proof has been found (see Wikipedia "Water divining").

However, Mr Bruno Jeggli will show and explain to us this technique. We will be able to try it out ourselves but if you find oil, that will belong to the club!

We meet at the synagogue Lengnau and drive from there to the forest. From the parking, it will be a 15 min. walk to the "Open Jagdhütte".

The more active can join me for an additional one hour walk.

Around 15.00 h Bruno Jeggli will give us his talk.

After all that "hard" work we will sit together, have a drink and grill a sausage or something, all of which you have to bring yourselves.
