

Sunday, 28th July 2013 at 10:00

Teufelskeller Walk

We will walk from Baden to the Chrüzliberg where there used to be a celtic refuge and from there down to the Teufelskeller with its 20m high rocks and up to 50m high trees, which is still a mystic place even if the devil has not been seen there in quite a while. Afterwards we will walk up to the Rüsler above Neuenhof where we will enjoy the beautiful view and lunch before we walk down to the valley and take the bus back to Baden.

It is an easy 2h walk from Baden to the Rüsler and another ½ h from the Rüsler down to the valley. All the same good footgear is advisable as the forest paths can be slippery. In case of bad weather we will shorten the walk and go directly back to Baden from the Teufelskeller.

We will meet at 10:00 at the Schadenmühleplatz in Baden

(free parking on Sundays, 20 minutes' walk from Baden train Station, 5 minutes from the bus station "Linde")

For further information contact Andy at 056 / 241 18 53 or 043 / 243 72 72 (office) or e-mail: andreas.schmid.privat@bluewin.ch