By car from China to Pakistan

In 2006, our member Hans Maag travelled, together with his son in law, by plane from Shanghai to Kashgar, a town on the former Silk road. From there, by car, through the Karakorum mountains over the Khunjerab Pass into Pakistan. 700 km downhill, through the Hunza valley, along the Indus river, past Gilgit and Abbotabad to Islamabad and Rawalpindi.

valley, along the Indus river, past Gilgit and Abbotabad to Islamabad and Rawalpindi.

With pictures and explanations he will give you an idea of this fantastic adventure trip.

I hope some of you will join me for a meal at the Restaurant Hirschen at 18.30 h.

Please contact me if you need further information.
