

Wednesday, 3rd July, 13.45

Création Baumann

No, it isn't ice cream or coloured wax. They are bobbins of yarn, produced in their factory for the cloths they weave. A family-run business, now in the fourth generation, the Baumann company is to be marveled at. As they put it on their website, the heart of their weaving keeps on beating.

We will be told the story of the firm, then shown round the factory, i.e. the winding room, doubling mill, dyeing mill, weaving mill, digital printing and a finishing room. They have their own design room for their cloth prints, and there is a museum. Finally we will be treated to a cup of coffee and a 'Schnägge'!

We meet at the entrance to the factory, Bern-Zürich-Strasse 23, Langenthal at 13:45. The nearest station is Langenthal Industrie Nord.

They need to know our numbers, so that there will be enough 'Schnägge'!, so please could you let me know if you intend to come, by 23rd June at the latest.*
