Teufelskeller Walk

We will walk from Baden to the Chrüzliberg, where there used to be a Celtic refuge, and from there down to the Teufelskeller nature reserve, with its 20mhigh rocks and up to 50m-high trees. It is still a mystic place, although the devil has not been seen there lately. Afterwards, we will walk up to the Rüsler Restaurant above Neuenhof, where we will enjoy the beautiful view and lunch before we walk down to the valley and take the bus back to Baden.

It is an easy 2h walk from Baden to the Rüsler, and another ½ h from the Rüsler down to the valley. All the same, good walking shoes are advisable, as the forest paths can be slippery. In case of bad weather, we will shorten the walk and go directly back to Baden from the Teufelskeller.

We will meet at 10:00 at the Schadenmühleplatz in Baden
(free parking on Sundays, 20 minutes walk from Baden train Station, 5 minutes from the RVBW bus station "Lindenplatz")
