

Saturday 29th April 2023, 14:00

Vogelwarte Sempach

Our breakfast entertainment is often to watch the humble sparrows all trying to get into the birdbath at the same time. Where would summer evenings be without the rich song of the blackbird. Or the chatter of a blackcap?

Come and join us in the bird world of the Vogelwarte to hear more about these little marvels. The exhibition centre welcomes you with a ring which you use to view the exhibits in the first section, where you experience existence as a bird, with all its dangers. Then you will find the answer to a fascinating question: why do birds sing? Lastly we will see a documentary about the different birds of Switzerland.

We meet at the entrance to the ornithological institute at 13:45. Car parks are a few minutes' walk away. Entrance costs CHF 15,- (or CHF 10,- for friends of the Vogelwarte.)

For any questions please contact David Smith,
056 424 1700/079 520 7306; bd.laubacher@gmail.com